THE STATE TICKET.

It will be generally conceded that the Republican State convention made a strong ticket. It is headed by a gentleman well known throughout the State for his term of six years in Congress. No man who ever left Wisconsin for the war had truer courage than he and but few saw more active service. After the war closed he was nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Seventh district, and was re-elected for the second and third time. During his term in the House of Representatives he was one of the hard workers, and although he made no brilliant or long speeches, he became one of the best informed men on public questions on the floor, and exerted an influence which was courted by the oldest and the ablest members of the House. Throughout his public career he bore the stamp of an honest man. He is popular with the masses because he is an excellent representative of the common people, and is immensely popular with the soldier element, of which he is an honored type.

For Lieutenant Governor the convention put in nomination the Hon. Sam S. Field, of Ashland. He belongs to the young and vigorous blood of the Republican party, and in the Northern portion of the State especially, he is exceedingly strong. He has been in the Assembly twice, and in 1876 was elected Speaker, and is now serving his second term in the Senate. Bingham having been defeated for Governor, made Field's nomination comparatively easy. The district asked for a place on the ticket, and the Third being divided between Treat and Ryland vastly improved his chances, so when the second ballot was taken he walked away with the nomination much to the disappointment of the friends of the other candidates.

Captain E. O. Timme was a fortunate candidate for Secretary of State. The Germans and the soldiers asked his nomination, and so strong was he before the convention, that on the informal ballot he received 191 votes, 57 more than were necessary for a choice. There is true metal in Captain Timme. He not only made a fine record in the war and losing an arm in one of the hottest battles, but he is every inch a man, true and brave, and carries about him those qualities which ultimately fit him for the important office of Secretary of State. His personal strength is of that sort which will draw out the highest possible vote of the party. If ever an office was honored by a good man, by one of high ability and sterling integrity, the office of Secretary of State will be honored by Captain Timme.

For State Treasurer, the nomination fell very easily upon Hon. Edward C. McFarbridge, of Dodge. His was a strong nomination. He is a manufacturer, and one of those rare Republicans who can win in the face of a heavy Democratic majority. Dodge county is full of Democracy, but as strongly Bourbon as it is and always has been, McFarbridge has been elected once to the Senate and once to the Assembly. The convention might have looked about for a whole month for a strong candidate for the office of State Treasurer, and it could not have found one stronger or more worthy than McFarbridge.

There were three or four candidates for Attorney-General, but before the convention met, the seal of success had been placed upon Judge L. F. Frisby, of Washington county. He was nominated in 1873 for the same office, but went down in the general wreck with the rest of the Republican ticket. Washington county is so strongly Democratic as to be politically uncomfortable for an ordinary Republican, but Judge Frisby has been handsomely endorsed by the people there, and three years ago when they wanted a man to run against Deuster for Congress, the Republicans called out Frisby, and although the district is from 5,000 to 7,000 Democratic, he came within 135 votes of going to Congress! This shows what manner of a man he is so far as personal strength goes. He is an able lawyer, a man of fine presence, and of strong integrity.

The convention nominated Robert Graham, of Oshkosh, for Superintendent of Public Instruction. He is one of the best educators in the State, and probably there is no man in the State who has a more thorough acquaintance with our common school system than Mr. Graham. There was some disappointment on the defeat of Major Rockwood, but the convention thought it could not consistently make two nominations from the First district.

Nils P. Hagen, of Pierce county, was nominated for Railway Commissioner. He is a young man, a lawyer by profession, and is not considered a strong man for that responsible place. The convention had cut off the Norwegians on all other nominations, and this was made to make amends honorable.

Phil L. Spooner was re-nominated for Insurance Commissioner, and in this the convention did a wise thing. In all the State there could not have been found a better man.

It is thought that at the Methodist conference in session at Whitewater the old Carhart-Haddock trouble will be touched upon, but no time wasted upon it. It would be a happy relief to the church folk and hardly less of a rest to the public, if the conference could be held without one or more trials of accused ministers. Church trials are getting so common that the Wisconsin conference has a chance to distinguish itself by holding a session without one.

CROWDING THE CAPITOL.

Special to the Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The city is very crowded and the people are flocking from all directions toward the capitol. Over 25,000 have already viewed the remains, and there are now 8,000 people in line. Many dignitaries are arriving. A day of fasting and prayer is to be appointed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22, 2 p. m.—It is estimated that thirty thousand viewed the remains this forenoon. A line a mile long is now waiting. The colla is elaborately decorated and surrounded with elegant floral designs. Mrs. Garfield, her son Harry, and the Rockwells, visited the White house this forenoon and directed the removal of their personal effects. Nothing is to be shipped till after the funeral.

In the official arrangements made for attending the funeral next Monday, all the State officials are invited.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS.

Special to the Gazette.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 22.—The arrangement for the funeral are being pushed along rapidly. A catafalque has been erected in the center of the public square, its dimensions being fifty feet by fifty feet and surmounted by a dome 75 feet from the ground. The whole is being elegantly draped with white and black and with American flags.

The committee chosen to escort the remains will leave Friday, and will meet the funeral train at Pittsburg, and will arrive here with the remains Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m. The remains will lie in state here until Monday, and will be viewed by the people on Sunday. Mayor Ewing, of St. Louis, tenders the use of the same hearse which was used at Lincoln's funeral, and which is now in possession of Jesse. Arnot, of that city.

A suite of rooms are being prepared at the Kennard house for the use of President Arthur, General Grant, and the cabinet officers. The citizens have been asked for $15,000 to defray the funeral expenses, and this sum will be promptly raised.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR.

Special to the Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Chester A. Arthur was sworn in as President of the United States, by Chief Justice Waite, at noon, in the presence of the cabinet, Senators, and other officials. The cabinet then held a session and President Arthur invited all to remain.

THE GARFIELD FUND.

Special to the Gazette.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Cyrus Field says that the fund for Mrs. Garfield already exceeds the quarter of a million originally intended, and he hopes it may reach one-half million.

THE CONVENTION.

Proceedings of the Republican State Convention.

MADISON, Sept. 21.—The convention was called to order at 11 o'clock by R. H. Baker, the chairman, who made the following address, which was loudly cheered:

GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION: The political year since our last convention have been eventful ones. The heated canvass of the presidential canvass, previous to the Chicago convention, the bitter opposition during that eventful week, followed by the active canvass of the autumn, are events that alone remain in the minds of every Republican. Each event proved that the principles of our party were too deeply seated to be set aside by personal strife, and that the mission of the Republican party was not ended. No sooner were the issues of the contest settled and the fiat gone forth, "we had confidence in you, J. A. Garfield, and the principles you represent," that the wheels of commerce which had slackened, anxiously waiting the result turned with renewed vigor, bringing to our shores the wealth of every continent and an immigration that in its magnitude threatens to depopulate some sections of the old world. Capital at once loosened its purse strings and the credit of the government reached at once an eighth lower in its interest than it ever before attained. Industry thrives, manufacturing enterprises are taxed to their utmost capacity, the agriculturist receives an increased price for his products and labor finds ample employment. Shall this state of things continue? You as the representatives of the Republican party in one of the great States have in your power and by your ample to do your next toward its continuance. Let no dissension appear in this convention and any that may have extended between the leaders of the party let it be laid aside and from the list of able candidates for the several offices let a ticket be placed in nomination that will receive the hearty support of the entire party.

P. A. Olson, of the Third district, was chosen temporary chairman and made an eloquent address for the principles of the party, and for the dead President, and J. V. Quarles made a speech of sympathy for President Garfield, which was loudly cheered.

MADISON, September 21—1:45 p. m.—After a recess till 1 o'clock the convention was recalled and an attempt to appoint a committee under J. V. Quarles' motion for a resolution honoring Garfield failed; also failed, a resolution to appoint a committee of eight under E. W. Keyes' resolution to choose a successor to R. H. Baker as chairman of the State central committee. Adjourned till 3 o'clock.

The following committees were then announced by the chair:

Committee on Credentials.—At large and chairman, Dana C. Leland, 1st district; C. C. Blanchard; 2d, D. E. Walcott; 3d, J. H. Miner; 4th, E. S. Turner; 5th, S. J. Morse; 6th, George Grimmer; 7th, R. R. Kemper; 8th, W. A. Ellis.

On Permanent Organization.—At large and chairman, T. S. Allen, 1st district; J. W. Van Linschoten; 2d, J. W. Van Linschoten; 3d, J. W. Van Linschoten; 4th, J. W. Van Linschoten; 5th, J. W. Van Linschoten; 6th, J. W. Van Linschoten; 7th, J. W. Van Linschoten; 8th, J. W. Van Linschoten.

Committee on Platform.—At large and chairman, W. E. Carter, 1st district; J. T. Clark; 2d, O. B. Thomas; 3d, J. R. Ries; 4th, S. S. Morse; 5th, H. G. Sloan; 6th, W. T. Price; 7th, T. B. Scott.

On Garfield Resolutions.—At large and chairman, J. V. Quarles, 1st district; J. W. Van Linschoten; 2d, J. W. Van Linschoten; 3d, J. W. Van Linschoten; 4th, J. W. Van Linschoten; 5th, J. W. Van Linschoten; 6th, J. W. Van Linschoten; 7th, J. W. Van Linschoten; 8th, J. W. Van Linschoten.

On Selecting Chairman of State Central Committee.—At large and chairman, E. W. Keyes, 1st district; J. W. Van Linschoten; 2d, J. W. Van Linschoten; 3d, J. W. Van Linschoten; 4th, J. W. Van Linschoten; 5th, J. W. Van Linschoten; 6th, J. W. Van Linschoten; 7th, J. W. Van Linschoten; 8th, J. W. Van Linschoten.

Upon reassembling the committee on permanent organization, through its chairman, the Hon. John C. Spooner, reported the following list of permanent officers, which was ratified:

President.—J. V. Quarles, of Kenosha. Vice President.—John T. Fish, of Racine county, 1st district; John T. Clark, of Columbia county, 2d district; George Kinney, of Grant county, 3d district; Louis Matthews, of Milwaukee county, 4th district; O. Morrison, of Manitowish county, 5th district; H. B. Harshaw, of Winnebago county, 6th district; T. D. Steele, of Monroe county, 7th district; T. K. Dunn, of Juneau county, 8th district.

Secretaries.—W. D. Moore, of Jefferson county, M. O. Ring, of Clark county.

The convention proceeded to nominate with the following result:

FIRST BALLOT.

Ward	91
Warner	71
Bingham	71
Smith	31

Necessary to choice—135—no choice.

SECOND BALLOT.

Ward	105

FIFTH BALLOT.

Ward	124
Warner	97
Bingham	97
Smith	21

No choice.

General Ward was declared the nominee of the convention.

Gen. Ward appeared before the convention and accepted the nomination in the following speech:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION: I have been informed by your committee that you have placed me in nomination for governor. For this honor I sincerely thank you. I do not wish to detain you with remarks at this time. I am aware of the responsibilities of the position assumed by one at the head of the ticket, but I will use my best endeavors to secure the success of the Republican party at the coming election, and if elected I will endeavor to discharge the duties of the office faithfully and impartially, so that you may not have cause to regret your action here today. I will endeavor, further, to extend equal rights to all classes, and preserve harmony throughout the State. Again thanking you for this honor, and hoping that you may finish your duties wisely and harmoniously, I leave you. (Applause.)

The next candidate to be nominated was Lieutenant Governor, and the following are the ballots:

FIRST BALLOT.

Field	110
Ryland	88
Treat	88
Smith	1

No choice.

SECOND BALLOT.

Field	131

Hon. S. S. Field was declared nominated.

For Secretary of State, the following is the only ballot taken:

Timme	104
Johnson	104
Smith	1

Mr. E. O. Timme was declared the nominee.

The ballots for State Treasurer were a little more interesting, and were as follows:

FIRST BALLOT.

McFarbridge	67
Edwards	29

Steenland..... 46
McFarbridge..... 18
Johnson..... 14
Edwards..... 14
Krebs..... 2
Scattering..... 3

J. E. Estabrook..... 54
C. E. Felker..... 47

Judge Frisby was declared the nominee.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction one ballot was taken as follows:

Robert Graham..... 108
R. S. Lockwood..... 35
James McAlister..... 25

Prof. Graham was declared nominated.

For Railroad Commissioner one ballot was taken as follows:

Nils P. Hagen..... 131
A. J. Turner..... 60
J. H. Blom..... 27
J. J. Kasmussen..... 25

Mr. Hagen was declared the nominee of the convention.

Hon. P. B. Spooner, Jr., was nominated by acclamation for Insurance Commissioner.

Mr. Price then appealed to the convention to reconsider its action upon the claims of the prohibition plank. He made a most eloquent and impassioned plea for the recognition of the claims of this element, but was defeated.

The committee on the election of chairman then reported the name of Hon. Edward Sanders, which report was adopted. The chair then announced the following central committee, and the convention adjourned:

1st district—T. D. Weeks, H. Palmer.
2d—E. C. McBride, W. B. Hoard.
3d—W. H. Bennett, G. W. Parker.

Pensions for jurors will next be in order. An Indianapolis man who contracted sciatic rheumatism by sitting ten days as a juror in a badly ventilated court room, has sued the county board for $10,000 damages.

According to the latest bulletin on the National Board of Health, out of forty-one cities reported the heaviest death rate is in Salt Lake city, where it stands over 55 out of every 1,000. Lansing, Mich., has the lightest rate, it being only 6; Milwaukee and Chicago stand about equal, the former having a fraction in its favor, both cities being a little over 34.

Such showings are interesting, but are seldom a real showing of the relative sanitary condition and climatic healthfulness. Localities which are known to be unhealthy, are frequently forsaken by the resident invalids, who flock to places having a better sanitary reputation, thus lessening the death rates in unhealthy localities and increasing the rate in those of known healthfulness.

For instance, the reported deaths of consumptives on the immediate lake shore are few, because many of those suffering from this disease hurry away to Minnesota and other climates supposed to be more favorable, and often die there, the change coming too late. Thus the large death rate in one locality and the small death rate in another seldom indicate the real condition of affairs, and proves a poor guide to those seeking health.

BRIEFLETS.

—In Prentice & Evenson's window appears an excellent portrait of the late President.

—Oshkosh has raised $1,000 for the Michigan sufferers. Where is Janesville's charity?

—One of the stores in Randall William's new block is now occupied by O. Paulson, the tailor.

—Teal Fryer, while drunk, tumbled down the stairs of the Central house, Beloit, yesterday, and was nearly killed.

—All the stock in the Molcan manufacturing company has been secured, and the organization about perfected.

—There will be a band concert this evening in the Court house park, near the fountain, provided the weather permits.

—C. F. Topleman has rented the store on Main street lately occupied by Mr. Mullen, as a grocery store, and is to open a dye house there.

—The seventh annual convention of the Young Men's Christian association, of Wisconsin, is to be held in Beloit October 6th to 9th inclusive.

—There was a very happy, social gathering at the home of Captain John Neil, in the First ward, last evening. The guests were most hospitably treated.

—Antone Behrendt seems to be in bad luck. A thief robbed him the other day of a goodly amount, and yesterday he lost $47 by his pocketbook dropping somewhere on the streets.

—Mrs. Baumbart, the mother of William Baumbart, engineer on the Northwestern road, died last night in this city, and the remains were taken to-day to Alden, Ill., her old home, where they will be interred.

—Joseph E. Crosby, who is spending a time at his old home in Janesville, reports that the hottest days this season at De Land, Florida, where he has settled, was the 20th of July, and then the thermometer only stood at 95 degrees above. One other day it reached 93 degrees above, but the rest of the season it was below these figures. The reason assigned is that De Land is only twenty miles from the ocean, and frequent breezes cool the air. Several parties from here talk of going to Florida soon, and such will be interested in learning these facts.

—The literary and musical entertainment Tuesday evening given by the First Methodist church folk, drew together an audience of about 250. Readings, recitations, dialogues and music made up the programme, which was an excellent one, and most happily executed. Among those who took part in the literary portion of the entertainment were: John H. Nicholson, Miss Minnie Croft, George Wright, Miss Mattie Wright, Miss Clara Tuckwood, Miss Emma Tolle, Miss Della Selbeck, Miss Mattie Wilcox, Miss Minnie Matthews, Miss Edith Arnold and Bertie Harding. Those who took part in the musical features were: Miss Reed, Miss Biker, Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. St. John, H. G. Arnold and W. Follenbeec.

Wm. McCahey, 88 Lloyd Street, Buffalo, N. Y., fell and sprained his ankle. His employer, H. Anderson, 94 Main street, procured some THOMAS' EXTRACT OIL, and he says that a few applications enabled him to go to work as usual. Sold by A. J. Roberts and Shree & Co.

ANOTHER COTTON FACTORY.

There is every reason now to believe that another cotton factory will ere long be in operation here. Already there has been voluntarily offered $75,000 for such an enterprise, and there are others not yet heard from who will gladly contribute. A meeting of those citizens who will take stock and who will give encouragement to the enterprise is to be held soon, to complete arrangements. The fact that so large an amount has been already secured without solicitation, places the plan beyond all chance of failure.

STEALING MULES.

Yesterday Sheriff Skavlem received a telegram requesting him to look out for a young man named David Stuart, who had left Caledonia with a team of mules and an old wagon. It appears that Stuart had been at work for a farmer named Richard Kinney, living near Caledonia, and while Mr. Kinney was away, sitting on a jury, the young man was left plowing in a field with two mules and a horse. Taking the two mules and an old wagon Stuart struck out for Beloit, and thence to this city, closely followed by Deputy Sheriff Mayberry. As Stuart reached this city, he stopped for a moment near St. Patrick's Catholic church to adjust some part of the harness. The mules improved the chance to break into a run, but were finally stopped, the only damage being a broken neck-yoke. Stuart hitched the mules near a blacksmith shop on Court street, and went after a neck-yoke. While gone Deputy Sheriff Mayberry arrived, and discovering the mules, called Turnkey Skavlem to his aid, and they watched for the return of the young man. Stuart soon came back with a neck-yoke, which he had picked up somewhere, and on seeing that the game was up with him he turned down River street, and broke into a run. Skavlem followed him and chased him into Dr. Horne's yard, where he made the young man stop and surrender by pulling a revolver upon him. This morning the officers took the young man back home, where he will have a chance to answer to the charge of mule stealing. Stuart is almost a boy, being about seventeen years of age. The only explanation he offers of his conduct is that he thought he would drive up to Janesville "for fun," and expected to return to his employer in a day or so.

WARD WARDENS.

Dr. Robinson's Bill at Last Allowed for Superintending the Building of the City Hall.

Action Taken Concerning the President's Death.

Sundry Business.

A regular meeting of the city council was held last evening at which the Mayor presided, and Ald. Conrad, Fitzgibbon, Hawes, Norris, Nowlan, Potter and Robinson were present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The bond and appellation of James Ryan for license to sell liquor on West Milwaukee street was presented and referred. License granted.

Recommendations for sundry sidewalks were presented by the Street Commissioner.

This Hook & Ladder company requested to be allowed to take the truck and thirty foot ladder to Freeport, the company promising to leave substitutes, and a wagon with the other ladders ready for service, during their absence.

Ald. Fitzgibbon objected but the request was granted, he alone voting no.

Sundry bills and accounts were presented and referred. Among them was one of $93 for extra work done on Court Street bridge by Mr. Ward, the contractor.

A communication was received from Roscoe Hook & Ladder company, informing the council of the resignations of Peter Dornan and Alva Ashdown, and the election of James Hayes and Michael Tobin to fill the vacancies.

Ald. Hawes presented a favorable report on erecting a lamp-post corner of Jackson and East Milwaukee streets. Ald. Fitzgibbon objected, but on coming to a vote he voted with others in its favor.

Ald. Nowlan presented the Treasurer's report for August as correct. Filed.

The same alderman presented the report of the finance committee in favor of paying certain bills. A bill of James Croft's for $93 for services was reduced by a counter bill of about $12.

The old bill of Dr. O. P. Robinson for $150 for services rendered in superintending the erection of the city hall and west side engine house, was presented without recommendation by the Finance Committee.

Ald. Robinson explained the bill. The building committee at that time, 1876, consisted of Ald. Davies, Robinson, and Judd. It was found that the architect would charge $300 to superintend the work.

The other two members were too busy to superintend it, and at the request of Ald. Davies and by assent of Dr. Judd, Dr. Robinson superintended it, as a saving to the city. The claimant insisted that the charter forbidding aldermen drawing money from the treasury, was unconstitutional. He insisted he was the only one whose bill had not been paid.

Ald. Conrad moved that the bill be included in the list of those ordered paid. Ruled out of order.

Ald. Nowlan said that he did not know of any alderman drawing pay for personal services unless ordered to do so. Dr. Judd informed him that Dr. Robinson was not thus ordered. He did not propose to fight the bill, but was not satisfied yet as to its justice.

Ald. Conrad said he had sold rope, and carried it to the bridge at a profit, and the council paid for it. That was a small matter, and Dr. Robinson's was a large one, but in essence they were the same.

Dr. Robinson thought Dr. Judd had forgotten some of the details. The record showed that Dr. Judd at one time voted in favor of paying the bill of $150.

Ald. Nowlan moved the adoption of the report of the finance committee ordering the payment of the bills approved, which did not include of course Dr. Robinson's bill.

Ald. Fitzgibbon requested that the bills for park purposes be laid aside for separate action.

The other bills were then allowed.

Ald. Fitzgibbon moved that the park bills be referred back to the park committee, with instructions to call the committee together and agree concerning them.

Ald. Nowlan and Ald. Conrad pronounced this move only for the purpose of delay and annoyance.

Ald. Fitzgibbon thought differently and some heated words followed. The eyes and noses were called on referring the bills back. Ayes—Fitzgibbon, Norris, Potter, Robinson—4. Noes—Conrad, Cox, Hawes, Nowlan—4. Declared lost.

The bills were then ordered paid, Ald. Fitzgibbon alone voting against them.

Ald. Robinson moved that his own bill of $150 be put upon its passage. Ald. Conrad seconded the motion.

Ald. Robinson made a lengthy and earnest appeal in behalf of the payment of the bill. On the eyes and noses being called. Ald. Conrad, Cox, Hawes, Norris, and Potter ayes, and Ald. Fitzgibbon and Nowlan nays. Ald. Fitzgibbon changed his vote and the result was declared—ayes 6, noes 1, and the bill was allowed.

The special committee appointed to confer with the Oak Hill cemetery association, reported favorably to the appropriation of $200 for the purpose of making a better roadway to the cemetery, and improving the city property there. The report was accepted and adopted by a unanimous vote, and the clerk instructed to draw an order for the amount.

Ald. Nowlan introduced an order authorizing the issuing of city bonds to the amount of $3,000, at interest not to exceed six per cent, and the bonds payable October 1, 1882, the proceeds to be pledged to the credit of the highway, street and bridge fund, the purpose being to provide means for paying for Court Street bridge.

The clerk was instructed to draw an order in favor of D. C. Ward for $200 as as part payment on his contract for building Court street bridge.

Ald. Robinson moved that the clerk be instructed to draw an order in favor of O. P. Robinson for $150. Carried. Ald. Nowlan voting no. The ayes being, Ald. Conrad, Cox, Fitzgibbon, Hawes, Norris, Potter and Robinson.

Ald. Cox read the petition of property owners on Hickory street, asking for its being graded between Lynn street and St. Mary's avenue. Referred to the aldermen of the Second ward.

On motion of Ald. Nowlan the clerk was instructed to draw an order in favor of D. C. Ward for $2,000 in full of the bridge contract.

The street commissioner was instructed to repair certain streets in the Fifth ward, and Main street in the Third ward, under the supervision of the aldermen of those wards.

Ald. Cox introduced an order requesting the railroad companies to build a culvert under their embankments at St. Mary's avenue. Referred to aldermen of the Second ward.

Ald. Cox presented an order for a lamp-post in front of Fred. Sonneborn's residence on Milton avenue. Referred.

On motion all the bids for building fire cisterns were rejected.

The city clerk notified the council that Mr. Peter Myers had delivered to him the keys to the rooms, which he claimed were leased by the city for the purpose of the municipal court.

The city attorney informed the council that Mr. Myers claimed $200 for the violation of the lease.

The Mayor announced the death of President Garfield, and suggested the propriety of the council taking some action.

On motion the Mayor appointed a committee to confer with citizens and arrange for some proper observation of the day upon which the deceased President is to be buried. Said committee consisted of Ald. Fitzgibbon, Conrad, Murdock, Nowlan and Robinson.

The judiciary committee was instructed to confer with Mr. Myers and report at the next meeting.

Ald. Conrad moved a reconsideration of the motion instructing the printing committee to let the printing to the lowest bidder. Carried.

Adjourned.

SCHWARTZ-CARLIN.

Last evening there was a happy wedding at the residence of Mr. James Tice in the Fourth ward, the contracting parties being Charles W. Schwartz and Miss Lillie Carlin. About fifty friends were gathered to witness the ceremony, and join in the merry doings, and on the arrival of the hour fixed for the ceremony—8 o'clock—Rev. G. W. Wells stepped to the front and in a brief and befitting manner tied firmly the knot, by which the two were made one.

A very happy social season followed, and refreshments of a bountiful and tempting nature were served. Congratulations and well wishes were generously and honestly expressed, and a number of gifts were bestowed, among them being:

A bed room set and pair of gold brackets from the bridegroom.

Marble top center table from the bride's father and mother.

Eighty dollars in gold from the bridegroom's mother.

An elegant casket, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Carle.

Pickle casket, Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, of Fort Atkinson.

Silver and glass sugar bowl, and spoon, Mrs. E. K. Bingham, and daughter, of Koshkonong.

Pickle casket, James and Andrew Gibson.

Biscuit dish and berry set, E. H. Tice, Burlington, Ka.

Glass set, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bliss.

Pair of napkin rings, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Popple.

Pair of china cups and saucers, Miss Esther Cannon.

Silver butter knife, Hiram Murdock.

Water set and tray, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kay, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Willis, and Misses Lottie and Ellen Griffin.

An elegant lamp, Mr. and Mrs. William Gibson.

One dozen napkins, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Tolle.

Handkerchief, Emma Tolle.

Silver and glass butter dish, Misses Mary and Martha Gibson.

Silver and glass butter dish and knife, Mr. and Mrs. St. Kent.

Pair of silver napkin rings, Mr. and Mrs. James Moore.

Elegant tidy, Miss Ella Wells.

Beautiful canvas tidy, Allie Childs.

Pair of vases, Mr. Chas. Cannon.

Toilet set, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boyd.

Copy of Goldsmith's works, Miss Ella Williams, Delavan.

Cream pitcher, Mrs. Wells.

Lace, "a friend."

Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz start forth in their united life with bright prospects, which will not be dimmed, if the wishes of the many friends of both parties are met, and all the circumstances attending the important and joyful gathering which was the initial of this life, were most happy and most heartily enjoyed by the friends thus assembled.
